

Mitsubishi GOT-Series HMI Advanced Training Course

Two-day training course in Blackburn - £1200 per person

Two-day advanced course which explains more advanced set-up, communication, and recipe control between the GOT-series HMI and Mitsubishi PLC.

The course will use Mitsubishi GT Designer3 software and covers the basic dynamic and test objects that are used in most projects.

What Mitsubishi Products Does This Course Cover?

Three courses are available based on the PLC type: Q PLC, IQ-R, or FX PLC simulator system (depending on the course chosen). You will use a special purpose GOT-series HMI rig, PLC rig and GT Designer.

Price and Availability

See our website for a schedule of our training course dates. To book your places and check availability, please e-mail training@lca.co.uk or call 01254 685900.

The cost for this two-day course is £1200 plus VAT per delegate.

The cost includes course documentation and a buffet lunch.

What Does the Course Include?

- Screen switching techniques
- Overlap and superimpose windows
- Controlling access to the project
- User alarms
- Advanced recipe control
- Trending
- Controlling access to HMI screens

What Skills Do I Need?

- Experience of industrial control systems
- Must have an intermediate knowledge of Mitsubishi Experience of Mitsubishi GOT-series HMI's (preferably attended the GOT HMI Intermediate course)

Call LC Automation on 01254 685900 for details